

附件一、第3屆太平洋港口清淨空氣合作研討會議程

Third Pacific Ports Clean Air Collaborative Conference

2012/2/22~2/24/

Location: Doubletree by Hilton Hotel San Pedro, California, USA

February 22 , Day 1, Inside Our Ports

Time	Session	Program
9:00-9:15	Overall Welcome	Antonio Villaraigosa -Mayor, City of Los angels
9:15-9:45	Introduction- What is a Sustainable Port? In this session, speakers will define “sustainability” and discuss the value of a sustainable supply chain including of what comprises a modern-day sustainable port	Geraldine Knatz, Ph.D -Executive Director, Port of Los Angeles Xing Ye -Director, Yangshan Port Office, Shanghai Municipal Transport and Port Authority
9:45-10:50	Sustainability Initiatives: Collaborative Efforts Speakers will provide details on current initiatives with regard to sustainable planning and collaborative programs and their foreseeable outcome.	Veronica Booth -Senior Project Manager, Hong Kong Civic Exchange Noeleen Tillman - Executive Director, International Institute for Sustainable Seaports(I2S2) Fer van der Laar - Manager Director, International Association of Ports and Harbors
11:10-12:00	Terminal Efficiency- A Future Port Speaker will present on the future of terminal operations. Presentations will cover what a future terminal might look like; criteria for implementing zero emission technologies; and how to reduce emissions while increasing efficiency. They will also discuss how efficiency affects sustainability and the potential role of future port automation.	Kevin Maggay -Supervisor, Environmental Management Division , Port of Los Angeles Mark Sisson, P.E. -Senior Port Planner/Analyst,AECOM
12:00-13:30	Lunch-Keynote Address	Jared Blumenfeld -Administrator, United States

		Environmental Protection Agency's Pacific Southwest
13:30-15:00	Sustainable Management Practices Speakers will discuss how ports can manage sustainable operations, address what technology is being implemented, address long-term m practice mitigation management practices and discuss the best examples of sustainable port projects.	Ai-Hua Shen -Deputy Director , Shanghai Port Administrative Center Heather Tomley -Assistant Director, Shanghai Port Administrative center Kathryn Curtis - Supervisor, Environmental Management Division , Port of Los Angeles
15:20-17:00	Climate Change- Assessment and Response In this session, Speakers will present current programs addressing the carbon footprint stemming from port operations; current climate change mitigation plans; and results of completed adaptation studies. This session will also include a presentation on the experience of Tapanese ports in the aftermath of the 2011 tsunami and earthquakes.	Takehiko Fujita - Executive Director, Port and Airport Research Institute of Japan Lisa Wunder - Assistant Supervisor, Environmental Management Division , Port of Los Angeles Vladimir Stenek -Climate Change Specialist, Strategy and Metrics, Climate Business Group Department International Finance Corporation Robert Lempert -Director, Frederick S. Pardee Center for Longer Range Global Policy and the Future Human Condition, RAND
18:00-20:00	Evening Reception	Warner Grand Theatre, Downtown San Pedro

February 23 , Day 2, Ports & Our Communities

Time	Session	Program
8:30-8:50	Welcome Back	Robert Kanter, Ph.D. -Managing Director of Environmental Affairs & Planning , Port of Long Beach

8:50-10:10	Economic Sustainability in the Ports In this session, experts will present information on shipping trends and forecast, and the future economic trends and the associated impacts on shipping patterns; discuss how ports can act as a catalyst for green jobs, industries and new technologies; and present the economic benefits of various local and regional emission reduction programs.	Andreas Nordseth -Chairman of The Consultative Shipping Group, Directive General of Danish Maritime Authority Herb Zimmer -Chairman, PortTech LA Galen Hon -Marine Program Lead, International Council on Clean Transportation
10:30-12:00	Social Responsibility Speakers will present how public participation is shaping future port development; how port land use is changing to include greater interface between ports and their neighbors; and how ports are currently assessing community impacts.	Harald Jaeger -Chief Executive Office, Puerto Valparaiso Ronan Chester, M.S., PMP, CEM, LEED AP -Manager, Strategic Environmental Initiatives Port of Metro Vancouver Cynthia Ruiz - Deputy Executive Directive of External Relations , Port of Los Angeles
12:00-13:30	Lunch-Keynote Address	Lee Kindberg -Director, Environmental and Sustainability ,Maersk
13:30-13:50	Responses to Registration Survey Staff from the Port of Los Angeles will present the cumulative responses to the sustainability survey questions posed with conference registration in order to provide participants a point of reference for comparison with their colleagues from around the Pacific Rim.	Jan Green Rebstock -Sustainability Liaison , Port of Los Angeles
13:50-14:40	Sustainability as a Facilitator to Port Expansion Participants are invited to attend a roundtable discuss with possibility of future collaboration via a	Roundtable Discussion -Sustainability Liaison, Port of Los Angeles working group.

14:40-15:00	Closing-Opportunities to Build Goods Movement in the 21st Century Our closing speaker will discuss lessons learned from the past and discuss opportunities as we enter the future of goods movement.

February 24 , Day 3, Boat Port

Time	Session	Program
8:00-9:30	Farewell Buffet Breakfast	-
9:45	Walk to Berth 31 for boat tour	-
10:00-12:00	Boat Tour-Join us aboard the Mauretania for a tour of the harbor.	-

